

#2014Clark: A Tale Told in Hashtags

In an age of selfies and snapchats, the story of Clark College's commencement ceremony didn't just take place in Sleep Country Amphitheater—there was a whole virtual version of the story being shared on social media. This year, the college invited participants to use the hashtag #2014Clark in their commencement posts, and everyone—graduates, family members, friends, professors, even trustees—got into the act. We gathered our favorites here. Together, they tell a tale of joy, inspiration, and pride.

Trouble viewing this? Visit our Storify site to view it there.

[View the story “#2014Clark” on Storify]