

Winter Music Concerts

Students in the Jazz band perform at the 2023 fall term concert in Gaiser Hall.

The Clark College Music department presents five winter term concerts from March 6 through 22. Admission is free. All are welcome. Donations for the college's Music programs are accepted at the door.

The Music department presents extraordinary concerts and programs throughout the year for the college community and the greater community. Faculty and students work together to create professional level performances that are entertaining and provide students with valuable experience to help develop their musical talents. See details of music performances at www.clark.edu/cc/music.

existential anxiety and closing with a piece about eternity.

Clark College Orchestra Winter Concert

- When: Friday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m.
- Where: Durst Theater, Vancouver School of Arts and Academics, 3101 Main St., Vancouver
- Music Director/Conductor: Dr. Donald Appert
- Admission: Free; donations accepted for the Orchestra General Fund
- The program features works by Ethel Smyth, Richard Wagner and “Symphony No. 2” by Jean Sibelius.

Dame Ethel Mary Smyth was an English composer and a member of the women’s suffrage movement. Smyth tended to be marginalized as a ‘woman composer’ as though her work could not be accepted as mainstream. Yet when she produced more delicate compositions, they were criticized for not measuring up to the standard of her male competitors. Nevertheless, she was granted a damehood, the first female composer to be so honored. Smyth composed her most famous opera The Wreckers (premiered in 1906) to a French libretto by Henry Brewster. The Wreckers is considered by some critics to be the “most important English opera composed during the period between Purcell and Britten. The orchestra will perform the Overture to “The Wreckers”.
