

Spring Writer's Workshop

Clark College welcomed over 120 attendees for the annual Spring Creative Writing Workshop.

Black Student and Family Night

Clark offers information, inspiration to Black students and their families.

Women in STEM Tea

Clark students practice speed networking with STEM professionals.

Spring Career Connect

Clark students, alumni, community members, and local employers participated in Clark's Career Connect event geared for students enrolled or interested in programs in the college's Public Service, Society and Education area of study.

Professional Baking Capstone

Baking and pastry arts students presented their capstone project on May 9 in the McClaskey Culinary Institute Food Court.

The Swift Literary Journal

The second annual publication of The Swift, the college's student-run literary journal was celebrated with a release party.

Rocket flight test

On Saturday, April 27, the rocket team from the Clark College Aerospace & Robotic program traveled to Brothers, Oregon, and successfully launched their rocket.

Columbia Writers Series

Authors Andrew Leland and Justin Taylor discussed Leland's new memoir, The Country of the Blind.

Día del Niño ¡Celebración de Primavera!

Clark's annual community event offered an evening of free, family-friendly activities that celebrate Latiné culture, children, literacy, and Earth Day.

May Art Talks

Archer Gallery is bringing three artists and multiple events to campus in May.